ADDITIONAL IMPRISONMENT TERMS

Based on the information provided to the Court by the parties, defendant first came into federal custody in March 2022, after previously being in state custody since July 2021, or approximately 7 months, for conduct that is related to the offense of conviction but for which she was never convicted or sentenced. The Court determined that this 7 month period will not be credited to defendant's federal sentence by the Bureau of Prisons. Accordingly, the Court downwardly adjusted its intended sentence of 40 months' imprisonment by 7 seven months to account for this period of time in state custody, resulting in a federal sentence of 33 months' imprisonment. It is the Court's intention that this federal sentence commence running as of March 2022.
